

Laurieston School WAR MEMORIAL

(SMR1936)

The memorial tablet was erected at the head of the central stairway in the Laurieston Public School by the staff and scholars in memory of the former pupils who fell in the great war, and in honour of those who served and survived. It was unveiled by Lieut. Col. Alan Stein, M.C. in September 1920. The tablet is of a simple design, being of brass, and mounted upon a marble slab. On it are inscribed the names of 411 former pupils who enlisted and served. Of this number no fewer than 82 made the supreme sacrifice. The names of the fallen are inscribed above the survivors, and are surmounted by the following appropriate inscription.

“Laurieston School – Erected in grateful memory of the former pupils who fell in the Great War – 1914-1919. Also in honour of those who served.” The tablet is the work of Mr Arch. Hamilton, 70 Glassford Street, Glasgow.

As part of the proceedings relatives of eighty-two fallen heroes were presented with a photograph of the tablet. It was re-erected in the entrance to the Community Wing in November 1993 and re-dedicated by Rev. RJ McDowall.

A rectangular polished brass plaque with red and black lettering. On the left hand side is the figure of Britannia holding a large Union flag with blue and red enamel.
